LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the 1952 Seniors of Smithfield High School, being sound in body and mind, do wish to make, publish and declare this document to be our last will and testament, leaving our most cherished possessions and hoping that they will be taken care of after we are gone.

Betty Barlow leaves her position as treasurer of the Annual Staff to anyone in the Junior class who wants it.

Bobby Brown leaves his love to Henrietta Gwaltney and hopes that Frank Turner won't object.

Ann Carroll leaves her position as class treasurer to anyone who can use a little extra spending money.

Claire Clay leaves her ability to play basketball to Lucy Gwaltney and hopes she enjoys it as much as she has.

Barbara Courtney and Deane Edwards leave their twin desks in Senior English class to Mrs. Clayton with the hope that she will be able to find two students next year who are as sweet and intelligent as they.

Nell Crocker leaves her place as editor of "The Pig's Tale" to Henrietta Gwaltney with her best wishes.

Tommy Crowley leaves his position as third baseman on the baseball team to anyone who wants to fill it.

Swain Davis just leaves, period.

Nancy Delk leaves her ability to get good grades in bookkeeping to Mary Lou Edwards.

Deanie Edwards leaves his privilege to go downtown third period for Mrs. Jones to Frank Wells so he can get something to eat.

John Edwards leaves his ability to drive the school bus into the ditch to Bobby Ramsey.

Harvey Griggs leaves his position as right guard on the football team to Tommy Dashiells.

Earl Hall leaves his ability as a basketball referee to Jack Leach and hopes he will use it.

Ben Major leaves all the good times and trouble he's had in school to anyone crazy enough to follow in his footsteps.

Jane Murphy leaves her job as captain of the basketball cheerleaders to Lynn Robinson, and hopes she will have as much fun as she had.

Phyllis Nurney leaves all her books to Betty Ramsey and hopes Betty will use them more than she did.

Marie Oliver leaves her ability to be the first bride after graduation to Joyce Norfleet.

Janie Scott leaves her ability for getting into trouble to Sylvia Watkins and hopes she'll have fun.

Jerre Stallings leaves his ability to ride around in his own car to "Curly" Drummond in hopes that he will get a new Ford someday.

Jean Stephens leaves her position as editor-in-chief of the annual to anyone crazy enough to take it.

James Turner leaves his ability to get out of class to O. A. Spady and hopes he has as much fun as he had.

Janelle Walker leaves her part in the Senior play to Edwina Sykes and hopes she has a lot of fun at practice too.

Beth Warren leaves her ability to keep quiet to Jackie Driver thinking that Jackie may need it.

The members of this Senior class witness their hand to seal this will and as we peacefully leave, we say "Good-bye" to all of you.

CLASS PROPHECY

As my plane circled the airport to land, I gazed down from the window and marveled at the changes that had taken place in good old Smithfield. This was my first visit in ten years but I had already been told that the class of '52 had made a city out of the old town and I could well believe this as I looked at the tall buildings and new homes that had been erected. Pagan Pines now had its own business district and the new University which had been built on the Pagan River really looked beautiful.

My plane landed and I alighted only to be hustled off bag and baggage by a special taxi to the new Sykes Hotel. Who was the driver of the taxi? The slick limosine was propelled by none other than one Swain Davis. He recognized me and told me that he was now married and the proud father of eight boys.

When we arrived at the hotel I found it a massive structure of twenty stories erected on the site of the former building by the "Thomas Crowley Construction Company". Some of the construction business must have gotten through that pointed head after all.

The first person I saw when I entered the hotel was Jane Murphy who was now the desk clerk there. We had a long chat and I found that she could still tell you something about everyone. From her I learned that Janelle Walker was married at last to a big butter and egg man from Suffolk.

Ann Carroll was living in Washington. It seems that she went there to be a secretary in the R.F.C., she married her boss and is now the proud owner of a mink coat and deep freeze.

After I had completed my unpacking, I left the hotel and took a stroll down Main Street and found one landmark still unchanged, Simpson's Drugstore. As always the young matrons about town were having their 11:00 Coke and gossip session.

I strolled in and found Jean Stephens, Claire Clay, Phyllis Nurney, and Barbara Lou Courtney huddled around the table. Jean had just finished her latest concert tour and Phyllis was waiting for an important client. Miss Nurney has become a very well known criminal lawyer, while Claire is married and serving as the chief switchboard operator at Cofer Motor Co. Barbara Lou is an artist of whom everyone has heard and now has her own portrait gallery.

As I chatted with the girls I saw Jerre Stallings slowly rolling past in a police car. I asked about him and found that he was now chief of police in the city of Smithfield -- quite a change from the old days.

The girls were full of chit-chat about Earl's Television Studio which is now located in Pagan Pines. Earl Hall has a new comedy team made up of Bobby Brown, a natural for this kind of work and always a lover of pretty girls, and John Edwards, the greatest wit Mrs. Clayton ever taught. John sings when the jokes begin to fall on their faces.

Looking out the window, I saw Beth Warren coming down the street on the arm of the Navy, of course. She must have married soon after graduation for there were five little stair steps in sailor suits.

I left the drugstore and walked toward the new pier to inspect Ben Major's Yacht Construction business. Ben has dragged the Pagan River to a depth of 30 feet now but it isn't any cleaner than it used to be. Whom should I see at one dock but Deanie Edwards who is trying a big yacht out for size. He is still a confirmed bachelor but a very prominent farmer and president of the Isle of Wight Farm Bureau.

As I ambled down Church Street I met Harry Martin and Lewis Crocker. Both have become salesmen, Harry with the Hard-Buck Life Insurance Company and Lewis with the Fuller Brush Company.

Over in Pagan Pines I stopped by the University and there renewed old acquaintances with quite a number of old schoolmates. Nell Crocker, Deane Edwards, and Nancy Delk were teaching in the History and Languages Departments. Nell and Nancy are happily married and Deane is still hopefully looking.

In the Science Department I found Professor James Turner trying to pound physics into some student's head. James has sobered with the years, and no longer falls over his feet when he walks.

Going back to the hotel I whizzed by Dr. Harvey Grigg's Dog and Cat Hospital. It looks as though he must have run his old partner, Dr. Rogers, out of business.

When I stopped for a red light I saw Betty Anne Barlow and Janie Scott. Betty Anne and Janie were returning from the Jr. Woman's Club meeting to cook dinner for their families. Janie told me that Marie Oliver was now the successful proprietor of a beauty parlor uptown.

I returned to the hotel, proud indeed of the progress made in the town by the Class of '52.

CLASS HISTORY

Early on a September morn in 1940 most of us were pulled from our beds and scrubbed until we hurt. It was the first day of school and we didn't know exactly what the future held. To most of us the first days were like being in a prison and we all looked forward to hear the afternoon bell ring. Most of us went to Miss Prosises' room and some others went to Miss Timberlake's room. We soon settled down and learned our ABC's and to read Dick and Jane stories

The years passed swiftly and before we knew it we were way up in the 8th grade. We were glad to be upstairs with the rest of the "upper Class-men". This year we had Miss Bessie Martin and Miss Sletten. Deanie Edwards was president this year. The year slipped by quickly and before we knew it we had to decide where to go at the last day of school. There seemed to be some controversy over the subject. Bobby Brown evidently didn't want to go where the rest of the class wanted to go, so Miss Martin told him he could just pack his little bag of sandwiches and go where he pleased. This incident has proved to be a favorite joke over the years.

The Freshman year was our first year that we could be classified as the high school and we thought that we were the big wheels around school then. Mary Lou Barlow was president this year and Miss Hannah Barlow was our Sponsor.

As Sophomores Mrs. Marelle Gwaltney was our sponsor with Jean Stephens as president. This was THE year! We had Miss Cohen for history. Remember her? It was dangerous to be a member of her class with all the BB shot sailing through the air. The combat got so rough that Jerre and Ben had to take Hadacol right in the middle of class.

As Juniors we had a busy year ahead of us. We had to raise a lot of money to put on the never to be forgotten prom in the spring. Deanie Edwards was president this year and Mrs. Marelle Gwaltney served as sponsor again. This was the year we got our class rings and we had a big time showing them off for about a week or two. The next big thing was the Junior-Senior Prom. We had loads of fun decorating for it. It was held in the new Town Hall on April 20. Everyone who attended seemed to have had a wonderful time. After the Prom some of us went to Cleve's and had a midnight snack. It wasn't long before we started exams and had summer vacation.

Then came the great day at last, we were actually Seniors after struggling through twelve years of school. Mrs. Dorothy Robbins was our sponsor and James Turner was president. The first big event of the year was the Senior Play "If Mother Only Knew". It was a lot of fun working on it and we had some grand times at the "tavern" after practices. There was a lot of work to be done on the annual but we had a lot of fun working on it as we knew it would probably be the last chance we would have to work on anything together. In April we took the long awaited and long talked of Senior Trip. This was the biggest event of our entire years in school and everyone had the best time they ever did and ever will in many months to come. In the spring we were entertained at a very wonderful prom and we had a big time. From then on it was study time for exams until the day of graduation.

The last day finally came and as we walked slowly up the aisle to receive our diplomas and our minds had only the thoughts of the happiest years of our lives. Soon we would be alumni of S.H.S. but we would still have the memories of our friends and our happy years at dear old Smithfield High.
